WELFARE IS NOT A PENSION

By J. A. Thiigpen, Commissioner

Contrary to the thinking of a great many people, Welfare is Assistance to those in desperate need, and since people's needs change from time to time due to changing conditions of employment, living conditions, and other factors, it is necessary to occasionally review their situation. If it were a pension, then they could be put on the register and once and forever thereafter until death, could get a pension.

It takes more people to operate an Assistance Program than it does a Pension Program, but it takes less money to operate the overall program. Just like any other business, there are slack periods and rush periods. I am sure that all of you have been in stores and seen all the clerks sitting around doing nothing and wondered why the owner employed so many, and then later rush into that same store and can't get waited on because of the number of customers. You stand on one foot and then on the other, and wonder why the owner does not have more sales people.

As a member of the Legislature, I have had many people say, "I was in Jackson and looked in on the Legislature, and none of them were paying any attention to what was going on. Don't you ever do anything?" They only stay a few minutes while the Clerk is reading the title to new bills, and do not see the hours of work in Committees. Many of you have passed the Welfare Office and seen them sitting around drinking Coco Cola and gossiping, and have gone away thinking the same thing about the Welfare People that you have thought about the Sales People, the Legislature, and other things. All things, like the ocean, come in waves and trouble.

It is possible that we have too many employees, and we are making a study to find out. We have entirely too many policemen standing around, until trouble comes—then there are too few. The employees of this department are the policemen of your money, to see that only those in need get it. Of course they make mistakes—all people do. You can help them more by telling them of their mistakes, instead of telling it to the world.

POTASH FOR PECANS

Significantly higher yields of nuts have been obtained from pecan trees receiving 4-10 lbs. of potash per year than from trees that were given no potash, according to G. H. Blackman and Ralph B. Sharpe of the University of Florida Agricultural Experiment Station.

In tests of the North Florida Experiment Station at Quincy, horticulturists Blackman and Sharpe applied 5 or 10 lbs. of muriate of potash to each of a group of trees—5 lbs. to some, 10 lbs. to others—and the yields were significantly higher than yields from trees receiving the same treatment except for the potash application. Reseeding crimson clover was used as a cover crop in the orchard.

They also found trees of the Moore variety that received potash were not as severely damaged by low temperatures as trees that were given no potash.

While the trees receiving 10 lbs. of potash each produced somewhat higher yields than those receiving 5 lbs., the Florida workers found that the difference in yields between the two groups was not large enough to justify the 10 lb. application. They recommended about 5 lbs. per tree for maximum results from the material used.

The trees that received no potash produced an average yield of 19 pounds per tree, while those that received five pounds of muriate of potash produced an average yield of 25.2 pounds or 43 percent more nuts per tree than the trees that received no potash.

for 35 years

Solid portion of inset map shows area covered by Gulf leasing activities. Shaded portion shows area where Gulf has oil and gas production. Gulf has done exploration work in every Mississippi county.

Gulf began its search for oil and gas in Mississippi back in 1917. The first lease Gulf land men negotiated with a Mississippi landowner 35 years ago marked the beginning of a close working relationship with the people of this state. In 1951 alone, Gulf paid out over $2,700,000 to nearly 5000 Mississippi royalty and land owners. Today, Gulf has 1,200,000 acres under lease in 45 counties. Included in the lease of Mississippi coastal waters, where a seismic survey was recently completed and the state's first "off-shore" well will soon be started.

Since making its first Mississippi lease, Gulf has drilled 506 wells—145 of them dry holes. Each well, whether dry or producer, has cost from $50,000 to $200,000 to drill. As of today, Gulf's total expenditure for exploration and production in the state is over $85,000,000—millions more than Gulf income from its Mississippi operations.

Including taxes, royalties, rentals and material purchases, Gulf poured $19,000,000 of new money into all Mississippi trade channels during 1951 alone.

All this work means progress for Gulf, and at the same time, this continued sound development of the state's oil and gas resources helps bring more opportunities for a better life to all the people of Mississippi.

(*) The 800,000-acre Mississippi Sound lease is held jointly by the Gulf Refining Company and the Melben Oil Company.

All the things, excitement and drama of a film world will be experienced by the thousands of people who will see the new film, "The Girl Scout," which will play at the Mississippi Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, May 21, 22, 23, 24.

John Lund is seen as the boy, sophisticated nephew of the steel plant owner, who is determined to learn the steel business from the ground floor, but concentrates most of his efforts on the winning of Howard Duff, a girl friend. As a down-to-earth steel worker, Duff has created a hard-hitting characterization in a difficult role requiring both force and restraint.

The story concerns the mill owner's spoiled nephew, played by Lund, who insists on learning all phases of steel making before taking over the plant. Not only does he steal the girl of his crew chief in the open hearth section but he causes the crew to lose the swiftness in the tonnage race by a vindictive error. He does, however, a highlight of the gripping story, a highlight of the gripping story, a highlight of the gripping story.

Charles Boyle and Joseph Gershenson, respectively, receive screen credit for the film's splendid cinematography and musical score.

BOYS' STATE JULY 5-12
The 11th annual Magnolia Boys' State will be held in Jackson July 5-12, the Mississippi Department of the American Legion has announced. Again the event will feature boys from junior high schools throughout the State, training in government procedures by assuming offices from Governor down to county representatives.

018,000,000 was for royalties and leases, $10,000,000 for taxes, and $7,000,000 for locally purchased materials and supplies. These amounts may increase during the current year because of anticipated gains in well drilling programs, he said.

Despite huge expenditures during 1951 and for the dozen preceding years since oil first was discovered in Mississippi, the oil leaders said that the industry does not regard itself as a "Santa Claus or rich uncle to the state."

"We do not assume that the sums we have put into the state's economy give us any kind of franchise to play the game exclusively by our own rules," the speaker emphasized. "We are not buying a special privilege; we are contributing to a working relationship and the oil and gas industry is pleased to work on such a reciprocal basis. You have something we want—oil and gas—and we have something you need—equipment and experience and know-how—to obtain these products. We are working together in Mississippi for the common good of all."

Mr. Swensrud told his audience of the error many people who think that finding oil in a state benefits only the people in the business who come in when oil is found and the few lucky property owners under whose land oil and gas are discovered. It is his belief that the oil dollars bestows direct benefits on thousands of people... for the oil dollar becomes, at one point or another, everybody's dollar. "Hardly anyone in any Mississippi community," he said, "leads a life so exclusive and remote that he remains immune to the impact these dollars have on the economy of the state. Assuming as true the old adage, a new dollar turns over five times in the community where it appears, it is not hard to visualize this impact."

Of special interest to the bankers who made up his audience was Mr. Swensrud's reference to the parallel growth of the state's oil, retail business, and banking activities. Since 1939 when oil first was discovered in Yesso County, bank deposits in the state have increased from around $257 million to more than three-quarters of a billion, and retail trade has soared from $282 million to over $1 billion, 100 thousand annually. The speaker freely admitted that inflation is responsible for a share of Mississippi's increased dollar worth but said that many economists agree that oil and gas constitute a large contributing factor.

Regarding the controversial depletion allowance which permits the oil industry the deduction of 27 1/2% of annual gross income, an allowable resource, the speaker said it would do critical well to remember that the United States produces 36 per cent of the world's crude oil, possessing only a third of the world's petroleum resources.

Some of the Brownies came early, cleaned up, opened the windows, turned on the window fan, and made ice water for the rest who came later.

We had our business meeting, Laurie Kiefer was president and Donna Levy was treasurer. We made Mother's Day cards. Then we were back to cleaning up again. We were taught the proper way to set a table, using dishes, silverware, etc. Soon we will have a cooking lesson, then be taught the correct way to sit at the table and eat the food.

We closed with the Friendship Circle.
Intermediate Troop 1
We practiced our invitational ceremony which is to be held this week, and that consumed our whole period. Committees were appointed to meet with Mrs. John McDonald concerning camp publicity. Camp literature was given out and the meeting adjourned.

ITS NEW KIND OF HORSEPOWER IS SOMETHING TO FEEL!
With its 180 HP V-8 engine, on 125 1/4 inches of wheelbase, many people think the Saratoga is the best Chrysler car of all.
We invite you to take the wheel and feel what happens! There's a new sense of easy power, of reserve power that makes driving a new experience.
Its revolutionary combustion chamber develops more of the power in each charge of fuel than other engines can do. One result is performance, easy on non-premium fuel, such as you have never felt. Another result is new economy. It's an engine that scarcely forms carbon at all. It creates less heat. It will last much longer, stay younger on the way!
And with Chrysler full-time Power Steering*, you steer with one-fifth the usual effort... drive with five times the usual control! With Power Brakes you need up to two-thirds less foot pressure... and still stop in many feet less than other cars can do.
Yes, behind Chrysler's new engine you'll find a new kind of car. Won't you come in and feel what we mean?
*NOTE: Power Steering standard on Crown Imperial. Available, extra, on any new Chrysler.
